Witnessing to Memory

This is an innovative new course being offered by the Council of Christians and Jews which will run from 8th September until November 2022, once a week for seven weeks, on Zoom. The interactive, seminar-based module is aimed at both Christian clergy and lay leaders in religious educational contexts (such as RE teachers, Interfaith Advisors, and others) who wish to deepen their knowledge and understanding of teaching on the topic of the Holocaust in relation to faith and religion.

In addition to highlighting the imperative of teaching on the Holocaust, this course also seeks to explore the religious aspects of Holocaust education, both by identifying the religious elements of the Holocaust (for example, religious intolerance as a motivating factor of Jewish persecution and an appreciation of the complexities of religious identity) in addition to exploring the ways in which this can be communicated in a multi-faith, multi-cultural learning environment.

The seminar will be delivered primarily online, and CCJ will draw together world-class specialists from Yad Vashem, the Holocaust Educational Trust, UCL's Centre for Holocaust Education, Presence and Engagement at the Church of England, and other institutions. A centrepiece of the course will be a visit to the National Holocaust Centre in Nottinghamshire in October.

For almost 80 years, CCJ has been a leading player in Jewish-Christian relations and in interfaith engagement. We have provided an opportunity for people to come together, share ideas, learn about one another and build a stronger, more tolerant society. We provide a space to celebrate our similarities and the values that we share, while acknowledging that diversity is what makes living together so rewarding.
